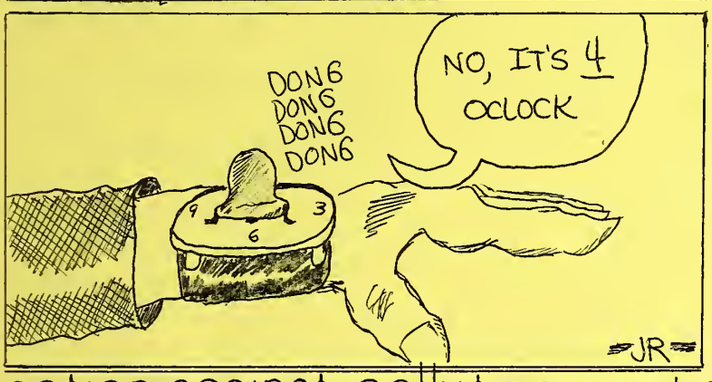
SUBTERRANEAN SIDE SHOW

Vol.I, No.38 Tuesday, May 19, 1970 JJC CCC



TEACH-IN EVENTS

The following is the schedule of events for this weeks Pollution Teach-In:

Tuesday, May 19: DIAGNOSIS

Morning session in the student union 9:30-11:00 Speakers: Art Wagner and Bill Zales, "H20 Plus What?"

Afternoon session in Moraine Valley 108 12:30-1:00 Speaker:Leonard Hodgman,"How We Got Overpopulated" 1:00-1:30 Speaker: Bill Allen,"Come Die With Me." 1:30-2:00 Slide presentation: Tony Laker, "On a Clear Day You Can't See."

Wednesday, May 20: PROGNOSIS

Morning session in the student center 9:30-10:30 Film: "The Silent Spring of Rachel Carson." 10:30-11:30 Speaker: Dr.Richard Chamberlin, Northwestern U., "War and Peace; Animal and Man."

Afternoon session in Shawnee 106-108 12:00-2:00 Priorities Workshop

Thursday, May 21: ASSOCIATION AND ORGANIZATION FOR REFORM

Morning session in Union 9:30-10:00 Speaker: Leonard Hodgman representing Environmental and Refuse Commission. 10:00-10:30 Mrs. Joanne Maxwell, secretary to Representative John Erlenborn.10:30-11:00 Speakers: Kathleen Conolly, executive secretary, Office of Urban Affairs 11:00-11:30 Speaker: Michelle Burns representing American Friends Service Committee.

Afternoon session in Prairie State 104-106. 12:00-12:30 Speaker: Roger Hays, "How to Get it Together." 12:30-1:00 Speaker: Art Mackay,"Spring-Hickory Creek Improvement Association: How to get things done." 1:00-2:00 Speaker: John J.Houlihan, Representative from District 41.

action against pollution must start now

By Ruth Swanson

People today are very into talking about ecology. On Earth Day (April 22), everyone in the world was speaking. In fact, the noise got so loud that people turned their ears off to it and went back to their everyday polluting routine (after all, you cant fight the system). Some people even got sick of hearing their own voices and chose like the rest to forget about it. Our problem was that we talked rather than acted. Action must begin now!

Did you know that there are individual things you can do about pollution? For example, you can use bio-degradeable detergents, drive certain low polluting (and low cost) cars, refrain from using herbicides or insecticides on lawns, buy soft drinks in returnable bottles rather than cans and no-deposit bottles that litter our highways. If you are energentic, you can write to companies who do a lot of polluting (in our area, Texaco, Commonwealth Edison, and the arsenal/Col. Olenchuck), you can follow the tried and true method of talking to friends and neighbors, you can join the Will County Citizens Committee on Pollution Control, and if you really care, you can limit your family to two children. These are only a few of the many things you can do. People who have discovered the importance of ecology have their own

(continued page 2)

the department store

By John R. Shields

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN DEPT: Now aint that about the most tragi-comic thing you've heard of in a while? Where else but in Chicago could police apparently shoot other police and get away with blaming it on somebody else?...that's the funny part, but it doesnt do much for Fred Hampton and Mark Clark...WE KEPT IT PEACEFUL DEPT: Now I want to thank you for that, but I also want to say something about a guy that was standing behind me... "Boy, they better put that thing up right, it better go up fast and come down slow, they better put that thing up right or I'll go out there and show..." and he kept up that line of chatter during the whole ceremony as if he was in an outfield somewhere...he was, I think, a veteran, the kind who, when in the service, used to hide from retreat every night so's he

(continued page 2)

the earth is sick! so what's new?

By Mr. John Stobart

This year it has been estimated that between 10 and 20 million people will starve to death! Nonetheless, there will be 70 million MORE people on earth by the end of 1970 than in 1969. It wasnt until the 1930's that world population reached 2 billion. By 1975 the population will reach 4 billion and by 2000, 8 billion are expected. Even if we continue destroying 50,000 per year on our highways, and eliminate

(continued page 2)

department store

(continued from page 1) wouldnt have to stand at attention for the couple of minutes it took to lower the flag and play the anthem...the kind of thing who thinks he makes America great...RECHRISTENING DEPT: In the future, we'll refer to the veep by a new name, coined here a bit ago, so remember you saw Vice President Ad Hominem here first...PROBATION RUSH DEPT: Two weeks left until...will you be with us next year?...

the earth is sick—so whats new?

(continued from page 1) Red China and the USSR by one means or another, the earth will be over-burdened.

Currently every American requires approximately 50 times as much food, water, electricity, etc. as those born in Asia. Hence, we can not blame the Orient entirely, or even mostly for the crises the earth faces. Indeed, due to the American and West-European need for luxury, conveinance, and "progress" (read profit), nothing short of an ethical and psychological revaluation will allow mankind to survive. Hopefully, the USA will lead this revaluation by a massive resistance to the inevitably crippling effects of the ever hungry maw of artificial machines like General Motors, Commonwealth Edison, and the undescribably intricate monster Eisenhower called the Industrial-Military complex.

Currently, President Nixon has suggested inflation as our #1 domestic problem and has prescribed unemployment as an answer. This in a society splintered by disagreement about war in South-east Asia and a variety of racial, sexual, generation and political confusions that relate to that war we cant even, legally, call a war. Approximately 2/3 of the tax dollar is devoted to supporting the military establishment, sometimes called Defense, and it has been said that one of every 7 American families has someone employed by the industries related to this accomplishment (variously posed as policing the world, defending our interests, or keeping the commies off the Juco campus). Now, it may seem that, like the Herald-Snooze, I have wandered too far afield in my attempt to explain why Survival is our #1 priority today. BUT, in order to accomplish anything in this world (earth), you've got to have power. The desire for survival should ultimately attract everyone with a brain. Young and old, rich and poor, male and female, flag waver and draft card burner---who doesn't really yearn for free air, portable water, safe foods and medicines, jet boom free sound waves, escape from claustrophobia? Given that enough people want to see the human race survive, an immense power bloc will develop, AND if it is going to be effective, it is going to have to support a different life-style, a different foreign policy, a different economy, and finally a different earth from that we have come to take for granted in a way that promises holocaust. If America continues to spend 2/3 of its taxes on defense, the earth is doomed. This is why you as college students today and voters tomorrow owe it to yourselves and your children (if you are allowed to have them) to get concerned NOW with SURVIVAL as we mean the word in our teach-in this week. Come to the student center at 9:30 on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday to get involved.

action againt pollution start now

(continued from page 1) newspaper, "Earth Times," a monthly collection of articles and photographs about things that have been, are being, or will be done for ecology. It is not propaganda; it is not consciously trying to convince anyone. It is for people who already understand the problem and need direction. It not only has ecological news, but other interesting articles. "Earth Times" helps to keep an "eco-freak" in the know and out of lethargy. So, keep reading, friends, keep learning, keep speaking, and keep acting. It is the least you can do if you care about the survival of the earth.

subterranean side show
Published by the CCC
Editor Jim Ridings
Staff Kevin Lagger, John Shields, Joe Boyle, Mike Smith, Ruth Swanson, John Goodwin, Connie Frantz, Ash McIver, Mr. John Stobart
Business Manager
Frank Cernugel

JJC Fine Arts Festival, May 21, 8 pm, JT West auditorium.

paid adv

VETERANS CLUB GOLF TOURNAMENT

new date

TUESDAY MAY 19

INWOOD GOLF COURSE

first, second, 3rd place trophies awarded in men, women, & team divisions

sign up at clubhouse between 8 AM and 4 PM

$1.50 PER PERSON